

Design Your Own Project

This project is an option for students that have a unique idea for a science fair project. This idea does not fit into the other science fair categories: science inquiry, engineering project, research paper, or informational display. This project allows for students to explore and share a passion or special interest. Students choosing this option must complete the project proposal form and get approval from the teacher. This type of project would not be eligible for the Big Bang.

Requirements:

1. Must be a science related topic.
2. Must require research of the topic. A bibliography will be required as a part of the final project.
3. Must have some form of presentation/display.
